Security Situation

Location-specific security conditions, threats/risks

TERRORISM

Boko Haram is the major terrorist with its active combat operations limited to Borno State but also on some LGAs in northern Adamawa State and occasionally in Yobe State. The terrorist groups are not known to have active presence in Abuja, though the existence of sleeper cells cannot be discounted, given that on a few occasions, the Department of State Services (DSS) announced the arrest of Boko Haram operatives conducting hostile reconnaissance activities in Abuja. Since 2015 Boko Haram has not attacked any target in Abuja; In addition, many arrested Boko Haram top commanders are reportedly in the custody of the DSS in Abuja. Though Boko Haram' capacity to target Abuja has been degraded substantially, the probability of an attack on iconic targets and other UN locations within Abuja using PBIEDs and VBIEDs cannot be completely excluded. There also exist, the possibility of the group targeting malls and other places of large public gathering.

CRIME

There are no identifiable criminal gangs in Abuja, though criminality has become a norm in the city and its environs partly due to social-economic factors and the challenges the SF face in dealing with the situation. Residential break-ins, abduction/kidnapping have become rife in the fringes of the city in areas such Lukogoma, Gwarimpa Lugbe among others. Kidnaping incidents occur during the night and early hours by drivers in unmarked taxis.

Armed crimes in the form of highway-armed robbery especially in the night sometimes occur mainly around the fringes of Abuja (FCT). If you are attacked by armed criminals do as you are told and do not resist the attackers. Surrender property that may be demanded by the attackers. If you comply, you may have a better chance of being released unharmed.

Fraud-related crime. Fraudsters and swindle peddlers consider visitors a soft and lucrative target. Do not disclose personal details to people who do not need to know them. As a rule, use of credit cards should be avoided as much as possible.

Personal Security

All UN staff/missions in states should maintain security precautions at all times as contained in the security risk measures of the Security Risk Management (SRM) for Abuja (FCT). All instructions, general security advisories, movement restrictions, should be followed.

Precautions while in public places

- (i) Remember UN security and other emergency numbers as listed in the advisory, always.
- (ii) Do not carry valuable items on your person or in vehicles in a manner that may attract attention.
- (iii) Avoid crowded markets and large gatherings in public places as much as possible.
- (iv) Respect cultural, religious, social diversity and political sensitivities.
- (v) Avoid using ATMs in secluded areas.

CIVIL UNREST

Irate Nigerian youth recently took to the streets in protest police corruption and brutality by the Special Anti-Robbery Squads (SARS). Although the demonstrations were peaceful from the beginning, other group of demonstrators who were pro SARS clashed with the others, a situation which led to deaths in some instances and destruction of property. The subsequent chaos led to imposition of curfew in 18 States, excluding Abuja (Federal Capital Territory). The youth appeared to use the opportunity to vent their anger about social injustice in the country and looted warehouses containing COVID 19 logistics which they believe had been hidden by corrupt officials. The rhetoric in some of the videos seen in the media indicates that some of the youth view the current generation of leaders in the country as the cause of their problems and if the opportunity presents itself, they might take the law into their own hands.

Other protests in Abuja by labour unions, religious-affiliated groups such as the proscribed Islamic Movement in Nigeria and other identifiable civil society groups would continue. Most of these protest matches are usually limited to a few areas including the Unity Fountain (near Hilton Hotel), the national mosque and other smaller mosques, the National Assembly entrance and a few other government buildings. Other protests could be held near the UN House by civil society organizations that may have complains by certain UN agencies. Political Parties may also hold demonstrations sometimes at the vicinity of the UN House to present petitions to the UN to intervene in some national issues.

HAZARDS

Various hazards, in some cases, pose a continuing threat to UN staff. Road Traffic Accidents (RTAs) are frequent. Poor road conditions, reckless driving, inexperience, mechanical faults and non-adherence to road safety rules and regulations principally account for a large number of the road traffic accidents. Due to hazardous driving conditions in Abuja, UN staff members are at risk of being involved in a traffic accident in the course of their daily activities.

Travel Preparation

Security clearance procedure	All UN staff and UN visitors must obtain security clearance through TRIP at website https://dss.un.org/ before traveling. Except for emergencies, requests for clearance should be submitted at least 7 days before the planned travel date and requests for in country clearance should be submitted at least 48 hours prior to travel. UNDSS may cancel staff travel and missions at very short notice due to unforeseen developments or a deterioration of the security situation.

Gender

Security threats and risks related to sex, sexual orientation, gender expression and gender identity

Types of incidents, social and legal aspects affecting women and LGBTI personnel	Abuja (FCT), like other parts of Nigeria, is largely conservative and unaccommodating to members of the Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender and Intersex (LGBTI) community as there is an existing law against same-sex activities in the country. UN personnel and their dependents who belong to the LGBTI community are advised to desist from public display of affection, dissemination of pro-LGBTI materials or speaking in favour of such rights as this may lead to harassment, prosecution and deportation/conviction. It is important to state that though there are persons who provide service to meet the needs of LGBTI community, mostly through the internet this comes with a certain level of risk which may cause harm in various ways and means such individuals should not be patronized. Violence/harassment against women is prevalent in Abuja though most of the incidents go unreported due to intimidation and fear. As per UNSMS, SMOM Annex A, Immediate Response to Gender-Based Security Incident, 'The affected persons are not obliged to report gender-based security incidents to security personnel, and therefore assistance will only be provided if accepted by the affected persons.

	Notably, no action should be taken without the expressed permission of the affected persons, if and when appropriate. Staff members may opt and should also be aware that UN-GLOBE, the group that represents LGBTI-identified staff of the UN system, has a website which can be used to contact its members. http://www.unglobe.org/about-us-1.
Advisory to mitigate risks for women and LGBTI personnel	Some Safety Tips – for women and LGBTI: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>a. UNDSS will respect your privacy, please let us know about any inappropriate treatment or harassment you experience. If you or someone you know is facing or has been a victim of sexual assault and domestic violence please contact UNDSS First!!! (Contacts listed above).</li> <li>b. If you are arrested immediately ask the police to notify UNDSS.</li> <li>c. LGBTI persons should be mindful of the conservative local attitudes and be aware that public displays of affection may attract unwanted and negative attention. Public displays of affection (such as hand-holding or kissing) between same-sex couples are not usually seen in Nigeria and doing so should follow a careful consideration because of the possible implications and consequences that may result.</li> <li>d. If you are transgender or gender nonconforming, cross dressing should follow a careful consideration because of the possible implications and consequences that may result. Try to respect local customs and blend in as much as possible. Also, consider who and how you disclose your identity or sexual orientation to.</li> <li>e. If you are harassed, because of your orientation or gender, remove yourself from the situation as quickly as possible and do not escalate by confronting your harasser. If you are being followed, find a busy establishment to enter or the nearest police station.</li> <li>f. Avoid remote and solitary areas which you are unfamiliar.</li> <li>g. Avoid showcasing anything of value (jewelry, electronics and documents).</li> <li>h. Ignore any inappropriate comment and keep walking. Avoid leaving valuables visible in cars or near windows. Keep car windows up and doors locked while driving.</li> <li>i. Use only UN cleared taxi providers; instruct the driver not to pick up additional fares while in route to your destination.</li> <li>j. Beware of new-found “friends”. Criminals may target or attempt to extort LGBTI both locals and foreigners.</li> <li>k. Use a firm voice, body language and facial expression to fend off any unwanted attention.</li> <li>l. Activities and actions beyond what is considered normal in Abuja that draws attention to your sexual orientation, gender identity or gender expression should follow a careful consideration because of the possible implications and consequences that may result.</li> <li>m. Be wary about accepting drinks from strangers, both at resorts and while out for recreational purposes.</li> <li>n. Be aware that alcohol and drugs can impair your judgment and ability to make clear decisions. Consent cannot be given if someone is under the influence of alcohol or other drugs, is passed out, unconscious, asleep, or coming in or out of consciousness.</li> <li>o. Avoid travelling alone after business hours especially during night time, on backstreets or in poorly lighted areas; also, avoid solo trips to deserted beaches or poorly lit areas after dark.</li> <li>p. Do not accept rides or walking accompaniment from people you don't know well and trust.</li> </ul>

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>q. Tell someone where you are going, who you will be with and when you will be back.</li><li>r. If you start to feel concerns about a person or a situation, trust your feelings and try to remove yourself from the potential threat, even if it is someone whom you know.</li><li>s. If someone approaches you or inappropriately touches you, try to get away, if not possible call out for help.</li><li>t. Have a buddy system. Don't be afraid to let a friend know if you are worried about her/his safety.</li><li>u. Understand Sexual violence is never the fault of the victim, but it may happen to you.</li><li>v. Know your sexual boundaries and that you have a right to say "No" no matter the circumstances. Communicate your limits firmly and directly. The absence of a "no" is not a "yes."</li><li>w. Listen to your gut feelings. If a situation seems suspicious or you sense you might be in danger, you may be right. Leave immediately and to a safe place.</li></ul>
